

Thinker's Keys – What is Geography?

The Reverse Name ten things not associated with Geography.	The Advantages What are some of the advantages of studying Geography?	The Alphabet List words associated with geography (A-Z)	The What If? What would be the possible consequences if no one studied Geography?	The Combination List then combine some of the main features of Geography and History
Hypothetically speaking If a large company located in your city what would be the main advantages?	The Variations Suggest ways in which countries are different	The Picture  What could this picture have to do with Geography?	The Prediction How do you think Geography in school will change over the next 10 years with the development of new technology?	The Different Uses Find ten different uses for a wind turbine
The Ridiculous Try to justify this statement: Maps are not important	The Commonality What are the commonalities between a Geographer and a Historian	The Question The answer is Geography. What are 5 possible questions?	The Brainstorming Brainstorm solutions to some of the problems faced by people living in your local area	The Invention Invent a solution to the transport problems in your city.
The Interpretation Give some possible reasons for developing a range of leisure facilities in a city	The Brick Wall Consider some alternatives to the fact that many students studying geography will never visit the countries they are studying	What do you think? Do you think the population of England will continue to grow? Give reasons for your answers	The Forced Relationship How might a weather person use some or all of the following to predict the weather: a text book, a note book, a bottle, a lap top computer and the Internet	The Alternative List some alternative topics to be studied in Geography.

Thinker's Keys – What is Geography?
