

Thinkers Keys – The World of Languages!

The Brick Wall Consider some alternatives to the fact that many students studying languages will never visit the countries of the language	What do you think? Which languages do you think will continue to grow world-wide? Give reasons for your answers.	The Forced Relationship How might a tourist use some / all of the following to make themselves understood. A notepad, a pencil, their hands...	Brit Abroad What are the 10 key phrases to know for going abroad
Mastermind What facts can you write in the target language about a country in which people speak the MFL you're studying	Engaged List all the things that do/would make MFL lessons engaging	Geography How many geographical features/towns from your MFL country can you list	The Alternative List some of the alternative topics to be studied in MFL
I'm a Celebrity How many celebrities from the country you study can you name	Enterprise How many companies can you name which come from the country of the language you are studying	Shape Shifter If MFL were a shape, what shape would they be?	Tourists What tourist attractions can you name from countries where your MFL is spoken?
Joke Corner Translate your favourite joke	Olympics What events would be in an MFL olympics?	What if??? If you could choose any MFL to learn which would it be and why?	Court Case Write the closing statement for a court case to make a student study a language in the Sixth Form